LIST OF PUBLICATIONS AND PROJECT COLLABORATIONS

COLLABORATION IN WIIW-PROJECTS

Regional challenges in the perspective of 2020 - Regional disparities and future challenges: The study aims to improve the understanding of the role of key challenges such as globalisation, climate change, demographic change and migration, energy and social polarisation, play in generating and reducing spatial disparities in the European Union and neighbourhood countries. The study focuses on synthesising existing literature and bringing together experts to better understand the economic, environmental and social impact at regional (NUTS II) level.

Client: European Commission, DG Regional Policy.

Duration: 2008-2009.

Main activities and responsibilities: Background paper on energy challenges for EU regions, Background paper on climate change challenges for EU regions

Changing regions – Structural changes in the EU regions: The broad aim of the study was to examine the nature of changes in the structure of economic activity in the different (NUTS 2) regions of the EU and to assess their implications for regional development. The analysis focused on sectoral changes and developments in patterns of specialisation, in terms of GVA and employment, the identification of growing and declining sectors, of mismatches between the needs of growing sectors and regional endowments, as well as the identification of the regions at risk and the potential consequences in terms of unemployment, social exclusion, unused capital endowment, etc.

Client: European Commission, DG Regional Policy.

Duration: 2006-2007.

Main activities and responsibilities: Empirical analysis, drafting of individual chapters of the final report

CENTROPE Capacity, Pilot Activity "CENTROPE Regional Development Report", ARGE CENTROPE; 2010-2012: The CENTROPE Regional Development Report represents a tool for the frequent delivery of transnational analyses and policy recommendations. The Report should provide a practical structure and analytical methodology for the construction of annual reports and serve as instrument for:

- The exploration of the socio-economic situation and competition competency of the CENTROPE region designed for practitioners and decision makers
- A solid discussion basis for the required (cross-border) policies and measures
- A database for international location marketing
- A base for political communication regarding the future development perspectives for CENTROPE

Client: ARGE CENTROPE Agency.

Duration: 2010-2012.

Main activities and responsibilities: Macroeconomic analysis, Focus report on spatial integration
