NEW: 1 January 2023 Croatia introduced the euro:

Croatia has introduced the Euro from 1, January 2023.

Up to and including 2022 all time series in HRK as well as the exchange rates have been divided for statistical purposes by the conversion factor 7.5345 (HRK per EUR) to EUR-HRK – a kind of statistical EUR.

This procedure has been applied to the following indicators (including their subcomponents):

- GDP
- Average gross monthly wages
- General / Central government budget
- Money aggregates
- Loans
- Exchange rates

From 2023 all time series are continued with current EUR.

Remark:

All time series for current account, reserves, gross external debt and foreign trade are given in current EUR throughout the period. They are not affected by this changeover.
